The Boston Combined Residency Program and the Alumni Association Proudly Announces the 2024 Recipients of

The Susan Brooks Award

The Susan Brooks award is given annually to a resident and a faculty or administrative staff member who has shown exemplary services to his or her patients, colleagues, and the Boston Combined Residency Program community, and is the utmost example of service leadership within the residency program, just as Susan was for so many years.

This year's recipients are:

Robert Daulton, MD

Dr. Robert (Robbie) Daulton is a third year, graduating resident in the BCRP who came to us from his proud state of Ohio where he attended University of Cincinnati College of Medicine, achieving the rank of "Pediatric Scholar" and The Ohio State University in 2015 where he graduated with Honors Research Distinction. Those who know Robbie appreciate his love of children, water sports, skiing, THE Ohio State athletics, and teaching. Medical education is an arena where Robbie has truly shined and made our program all the better. Residents and faculty alike have lauded Robbie for his passion for teaching and empowering his learners. He has been praised as "among the finest resident educators," and "an exemplar of best practices in medical education—providing kind, actionable feedback." In his time with the BCRP he has faithfully led the Medical Education Academy, has been a key driver in the development of our new Coaching Program, and a dedicated member of the Resident Program Training Committee. We will miss Robbie deeply as he returns to his home state to continue his training in Pediatric Emergency Medicine at Cincinnati Children's Hospital this summer where he will also be pursuing a master's in medical education at The University of Cincinnati.

Mollie Wasserman, MD

Dr. Mollie Wasserman is a beloved Associate Program Director and former BCRP chief resident. Hailing from St Louis, Missouri, Mollie attended Washington University of St. Louis for her undergraduate degree and University of Missouri Columbia School of Medicine for her MD, where she graduated AOA and was honored with the Leonard Tow Humanism in Medicine Award. During residency, she created the resident-led morbidity and mortality conference to create a supportive environment for trainee discussion of medical errors. An astute clinician and incredible educator, the residents voted her the recipient of the 2023 Janeway Award for excellence in teaching. In her role as APD, she orchestrates the entirety of Rising Intern Orientation, is a resident coach, and has been an integral part of the curricular redesign surrounding the upcoming ACGME pediatrics program changes. She started the incredible medical team associate program on pediatric hospital medicine and is currently pursuing a fellowship in PHM. She is an incredible mentor and treasured by the residents and chief residents for her investment in their wellbeing and professional development. Her colleagues in program leadership and administration alike deeply appreciate and admire Mollie's ongoing commitment and dedication to the BCRP.

We congratulate and commend the service and care of Dr. Daulton and Dr. Wasserman!
